Student Name: _____________________________

Square & Twitter Co-Founder Jack Dorsey Video

Instructions: Circle and clearly indicate the correct answer (True or False).

TRUE / FALSE 1. Square and Twitter co-founder Jack Dorsey received a tweet from the current owners of his father’s former pizza restaurant saying they were using Square.

TRUE / FALSE 2. Square and Twitter co-founder Jack Dorsey hates busy inner cities because he grew up on a quiet and peaceful farm.

TRUE / FALSE 3. Earlier in his life, Square and Twitter co-founder Jack Dorsey was obsessed with maps, and building software to visualize what was going on in the city.

TRUE / FALSE 4. Square and Twitter co-founder Jack Dorsey got a job with the largest dispatch company by hacking into their web servers and getting the CEO’s email address.

TRUE / FALSE 5. Square and Twitter co-founder Jack Dorsey wrote the ticketing system for Alcatraz tour boats.

TRUE / FALSE 6. Square and Twitter co-founder Jack Dorsey was inspired to create Square when his friend, a glass artist, lost a $2,000 sale because he couldn’t accept credit cards.

TRUE / FALSE 7. The importance of a working prototype is demonstrated when Square and Twitter co-founder Jack Dorsey was able to swipe the credit cards of potential investors (angels and venture capitalists) when he demonstrated his product, earning him $600.

TRUE / FALSE 8. Square and Twitter co-founder Jack Dorsey says the major remaining problem with Square is that it does a worse job with generating paper receipts than does a traditional merchant credit card system, which gives buyers useful transaction records.

TRUE / FALSE 9. According to Square and Twitter co-founder Jack Dorsey, you should try to make every detail perfect, but try to limit the number of details.

TRUE / FALSE 10. According to Square and Twitter co-founder Jack Dorsey, their ability to process credit card transactions without having to set up merchant accounts would have been a lot easier had PayPal never been invented, and thus they will never hire former PayPal employees.